NEIGHBORHOODS

Refer to the map on pages 4-5 for locations.

Downtown

Medpace Denver is in the heart of Denver's historic downtown district, known as "LoDo." LoDo blends commercial and residential spaces and offers many attractions. Stroll the 16th Street Mall, only one block from Medpace. From there, explore the dozens of restaurants and shops in and around Union Station. While in LoDo, be sure to check out the 19th century architecture of Larimer Square, Denver's oldest city block, which still boasts thriving businesses and stately homes. And don't miss the Denver Convention Center, with its famous 40-foot-tall sculpture called the "Big Blue Bear."

Cherry Creek

Cherry Creek is a few miles southeast of downtown. This affluent neighborhood boasts an upscale indoor shopping mall, high-end boutiques, and art galleries, plus a blend of eclectic restaurants, cafés, and cocktail lounges.

Denver Regional Transportation District (RTD)

Denver offers an efficient public transportation system featuring buses and trains that cover over 2,000 square miles of the Denver/Boulder/Aurora region. Prices vary depending on how far you plan to travel and which type of pass you want. RTD offers discounts for seniors, youth, individuals with disabilities, and Medicare recipients. Details about pricing, along with a map of RTD routes, can be found on their website.

The most convenient light rail station to get to the Downtown Denver/ Medpace office is the Broadway & I-25 Park-N-Ride station, located at 901 South Broadway (rtd-denver.com/i-25-broadway-station). There is free parking at this station. RTD's "D Line" and "H Line" both travel from this station to the 18th & California station, which is just across the street from the Medpace office building. It takes approximately 15 minutes to get from the Broadway & I-25 Park-N-Ride station to the 18th & California station.
